

MORR™ Review

► What is the Review?

Linking together two key areas of safety management (road and occupational safety) RoSPA is able to provide a unique form of consultancy to assist with occupational road risk. Many employees spend a great deal of time behind the wheel, so effectively controlling the risks to which they are exposed is essential. RoSPA has taken the lead in developing an approach to managing risks on the road.

► Aims

This new consultancy service from RoSPA is designed to analyse accident costs within organisations and to generate effective recommendations. The main aims of the service are to:

- Identify the size of accident costs within the organisation
- Identify and set the standard
- Measure company performance against the standard and set recommendations

► Additional information

The RoSPA report will provide you with a prioritised action plan for an effective and lasting programme for the management of occupational road risk within your organisation. The service will also identify key procedures that may need to be implemented, and which should help to lower costs. The RoSPA MoRR Review is based on the HSE's '5 Steps Approach' to health and safety management

The review will focus on:

- The current performance of your fleet
- The creation of an appropriate vehicle safety policy
- Resource requirement to implement the systems
- Planning, setting, measuring and monitoring standards
- Appropriate interventions to reduce risk and improve effectiveness
- Vehicle selection and use
- Operating efficiency
- Accident and incident reporting procedures

Duration

Will vary according to size of organisation
(normally 1-2 days on site, 1-2 days information analysis)

Location

The review will be undertaken at customers' premises, with initial information gathering undertaken off-site prior to the visit, and analysis completed off-site following the visit.
