Highlights of the Year

Vision

NEBOSH is a charity whose vision is:

To preserve and improve health, safety and the environment in workplaces worldwide

We deliver this vision by helping individuals achieve competence in health, safety and environmental management so they are equipped to protect others from the hazards arising from workplace activities.

Over 300,000 individuals now hold NEBOSH qualifications, and through the knowledge and competence gained, they are helping to save lives around the world.

Highlights

Registrations grew to 176,234, an increase of 5% compared to last year.

Growth in registrations has resulted in our annual income rising to a record £9,055k.

The UK Health and Safety Executive selected NEBOSH to develop an accredited qualification, specifically for all their new health and safety inspectors.

The 175,000th person achieved the National General Certificate making it the most successful qualification of its type.

The NEBOSH Environmental Awareness at Work Qualification was successfully launched.

We extended our partnership with the University of Hull and now offer 3 taught Masters qualifications.

Our Queen's Award for Enterprise – International Trade was formally presented by Lady Gretton – Lord Lieutenant of Leicester.

Teresa Budworth, Lady Gretton – Lord Lieutenant of Leicester, Sir Bill Callaghan and Colonel Murray Colville – Deputy Lord Lieutenant of Leicester with the Bhangra dancers at the Queen's Award Celebrations.

International Development

To mark our Queen's Award for Enterprise – International Trade success we held a celebration which reflected our key international markets. The Lord Lieutenant of Leicester, Lady Gretton presented our Award at the event on behalf of Her Majesty the Queen. The Award recognises our overseas performance between 2010 and 2013 when international examination registrations grew from 23,000 to around 82,000.

Registrations for the International General Certificate have grown by almost 450% in the past five years.

In 2014/15 there were 114,536 overseas registrations. An increase of 6% represents 65% of our registrations.

NEBOSH assessments have been taken in 122 countries around the world.

New Qualifications

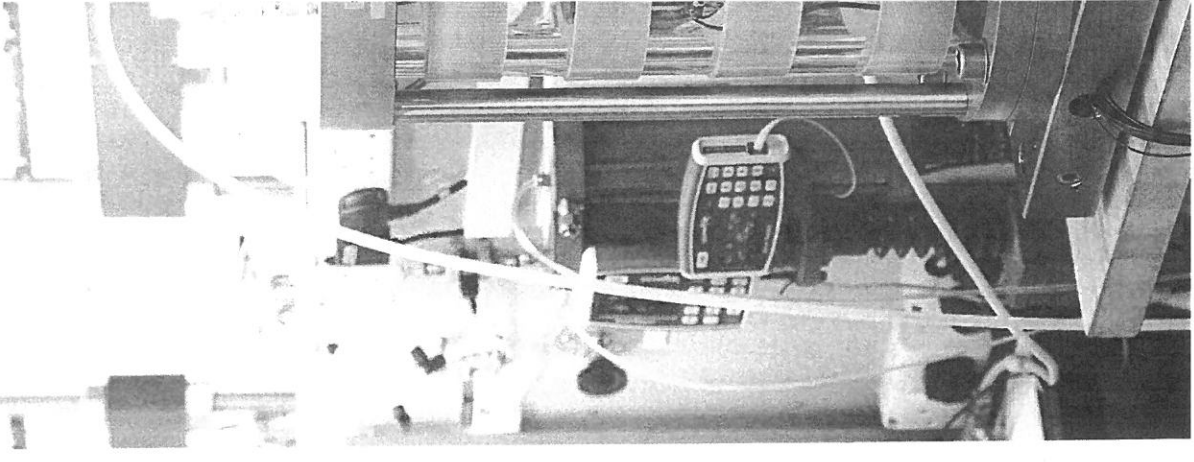

The Health and Safety Executive (HSE), selected NEBOSH to jointly develop the NEBOSH Diploma in Regulatory Occupational Health and Safety. The HSE is the UK's main regulator for work related health and safety. 100 HSE inspectors have already started studying for this Master's level qualification.

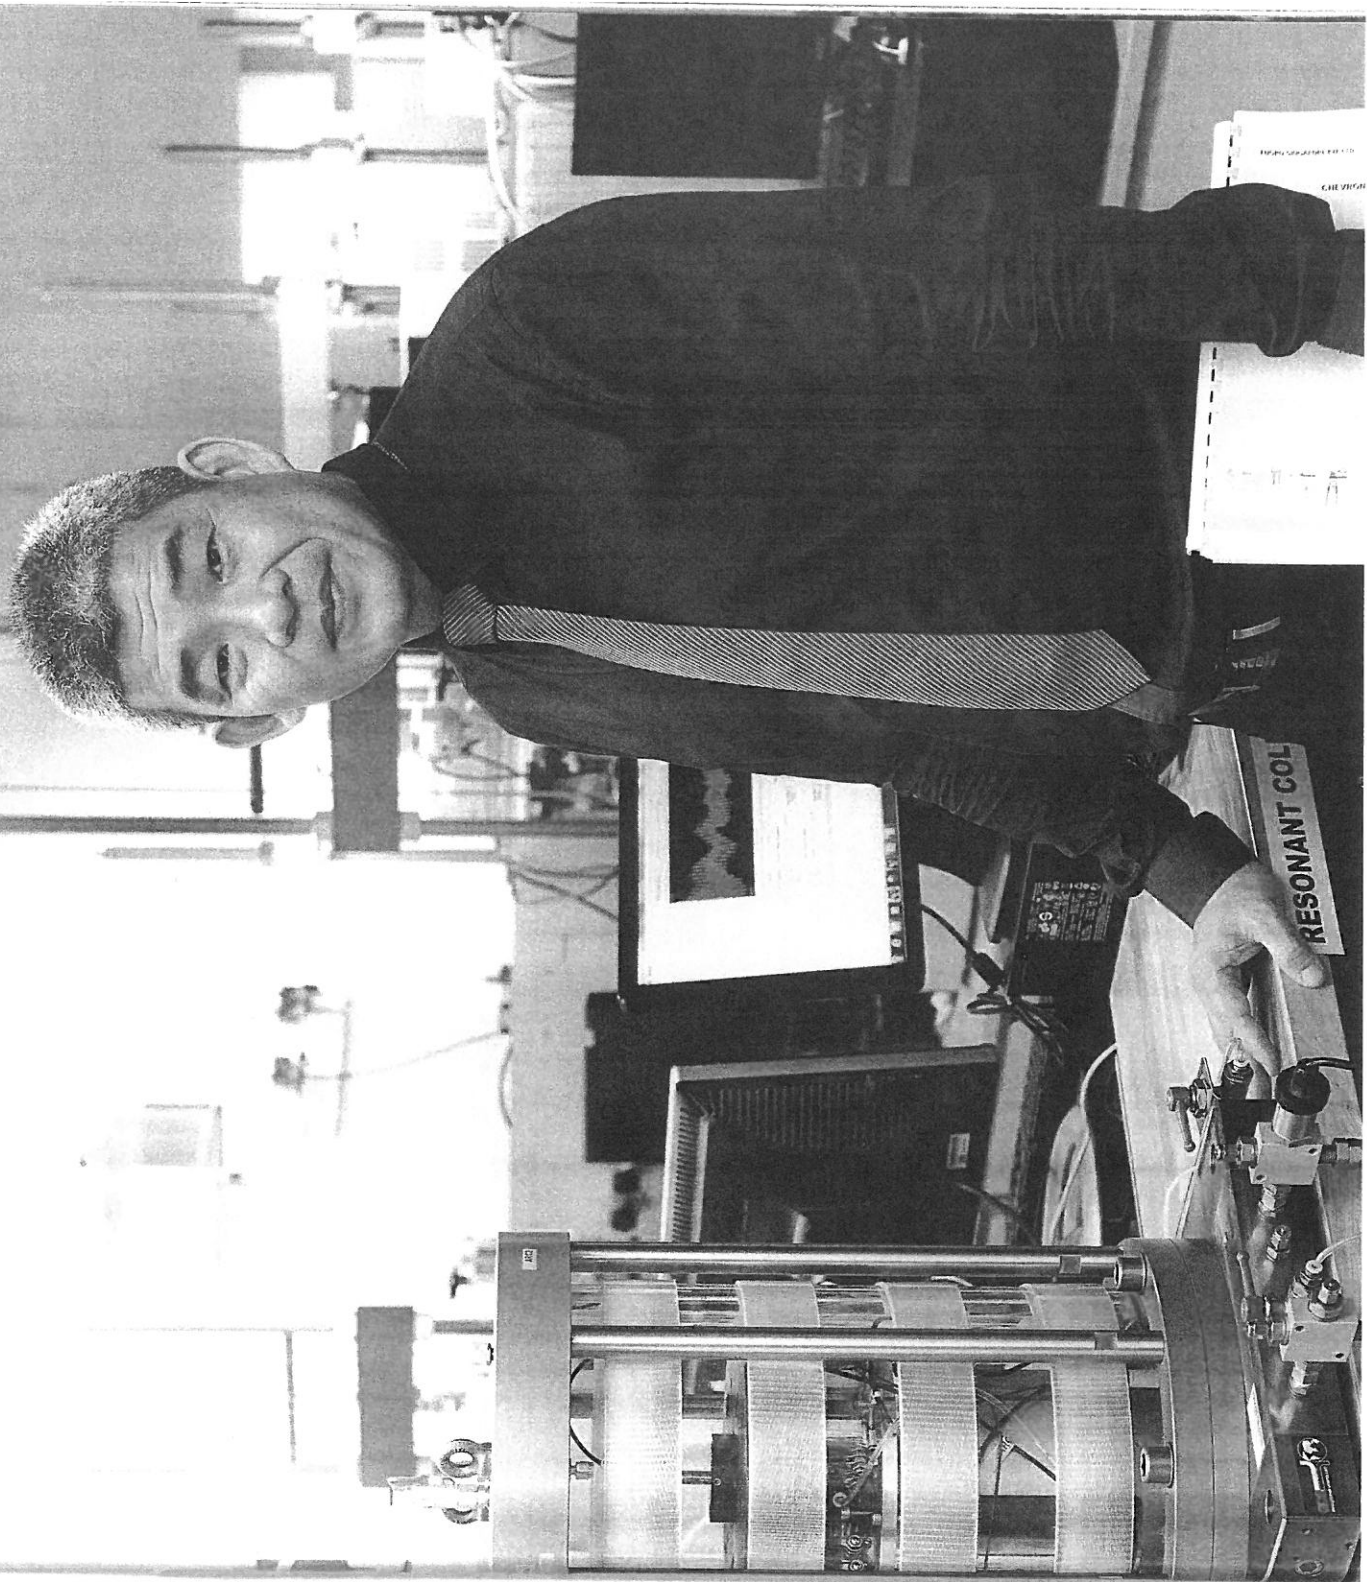

In 2014/15 we launched three taught by distance learning Masters' degrees in partnership with the University of Hull:

- MSc in Occupational Health, Safety and Environmental Management
- MSc in Occupational Health and Safety Management
- MSc in Environmental Management

These were developed after the success of the three Masters of Research qualifications. All six masters level qualifications are now open to NEBOSH Diploma holders looking to further their learning.

The NEBOSH Environmental Awareness at Work Qualification is now a permanent part of our portfolio of qualifications. Nearly 900 people took this qualification during its successful pilot phase.
