RoSPA refocusing of brand

100 years old 2017: RoSPA because accidents don't need to happen. RoSPA provide life saving advice for everyone, everywhere. Encouraging people to have a conversation about accidents, share what went wrong and what works in terms of interventions. Putting people first.

Action on Accidents

RoSPA in association with the Royal College for Emergency Medicine calling for a £2 million per year nationwide programme in Scotland to reduce unintentional (accidental) injuries to under 5's. Such a programme would be effective in reducing harm to our children save costs and take pressure off Scottish hospital Emergency Departments.

50 voices...because accidents don't need to happen

Launched in February 2016, RoSPA in Scotland establishing a team of ambassadors to assist in communicating core messages about the cost to business, families and the wider community of accidents. This builds on the Big Book of Accident Prevention and will develop a network of volunteers prepared to speak up on the accident prevention agenda.

Cross Parliamentary Group on Accident Prevention and Safety Awareness

Regrouping following the recent parliamentary elections; suggestion that the workplace safety themed meeting would centre on the Fair work agenda...to discuss at PHASS.
