Licence Verification

Objectives

This facility aims to manage and complete the online process of routinely verifying employees' driving licences and their entitlement to drive a vehicle on company business.

This is a quick and easy method of checking directly with the DVLA that your drivers have the entitlement to drive on behalf of the company, whilst ensuring that you can provide documented online evidence of fulfilling your duty of care.

Licence verification is an essential service for any business that allows employees to drive on company business.

Benefits to client

- Fulfil your duty of care by ensuring employees have entitlement to drive on your behalf
- Checks can be carried out as frequently as required depending on company policy and requirements
- Receive a fully-documented online check
- Removes time-consuming administration
- Manages the process of obtaining permission to check licences
- Identifies 'at risk' drivers due to number of points, fitness to drive issues or poor driving standards

Additional information

Under the Data Protection Act an employee must consent to their licence details being checked. A mandate (provided by the system) must be signed by the employee before the check can be made. Once this mandate has been signed it is valid for three years.
